Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicine well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly faded into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, faint breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booster," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—only three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

SHOT BY JEALOUS HUSBAND.

Alexander, Morrison, twenty-eight years old, a painter, was brought to the Georgetown University hospital last night with a bullet wound in his left breast an inch above the heart.

Morrison was shot by William L. Place, an employee of the Washington navy yard, in a quarrel over the latter's wife. Morrison is dangerously wounded and may not recover. The shooting took place in Woodmont, Montgomery county, Md.

It is said that Place and his wife quarreled about a week ago, and she left him. Place yesterday accused Morrison of being too attentive to her, and they met later and the shooting took place.

Place has been arrested and taken to Rockville.

Morrison is a son of Alexander Morrison, sr., a clerk in the Pension Office. Mr. Morrison, sr., is said to be wealthy and owns considerable property in Woodmont, near Washington. His son is also well to do, and has just erected a handsome house there.

MISS GINGLES CLEARED.

Ella Gingles was cleared last night in Chicago of the charge of stealing lace from Miss Agnes Barrette, her former employer, but the story she told on the witness stand to the effect that an attempt was made to force her into white slavery was denounced as untrue by the jury that freed her.

Miss Gingles shook hands with the jurors. Juror Thomas Mackey, the oldest man on the panel said: "Now be a good girl, Ella. Go back to your home in Ireland and be a good girl."

The girl nodded her head and turned away. She said she was going to tell her story to the grand jury. When reminded that the jury had said that it did not believe her story, she appeared a little discomfited.

Five ballots were taken by the jury. The first was eight for acquittal and four for conviction. Those voting for conviction did so mainly from their belief that the girl's stories of the weird outrages committed against her were untrue. They were won over to acquittal by the addition to the verdict of the clause exonerating Miss Barrette.

LIEUTENANT SUTTON'S DEATH.

The special inquiry into the causes of the death of Lieutenant Sutton on October 13, 1907, was begun at the Naval Academy at Annapolis yesterday, when Lieutenant Adams gave a dramatic recital of the death of the lieutenant before the board of inquiry. Adams enacted the tragedy before the court and with a model showed how Sutton died, while the sister of the officer looked on. The witness said Sutton shot himself. An old debt and charge of cowardice it was stated were the cause of the quarrels. Lieutenants Osterman and Sutton it was stated, fought first and that Sutton threatened to shoot all hands. The officers then went after their guns. Adams had Sutton down with his face in the earth when Sutton was shot.

That personal feeling existed between Sutton jr. and one or more of his fellow officers of the marine corps and that a quarrel preceded the fatal affray that ended in Sutton's death, was one of the chief developments before the board of inquiry.

MANUFACTURERS' THREAT.

A thinly veiled threat, to deprive the city of Lynn, Mass., of its shoe industry, that of shoe manufacturers, is made in a statement issued yesterday from the office of the Lynn Shoe Manufacturers' Association, which includes practically all of the manufacturers in the city.

The statement characterizes the alleged domination of the shoe industry by the laboring organizations as "undue interference" and says the Lynn shoe manufacturer has ceased to be master of his establishment.

After declaring that labor conditions are so increasing the cost of production and outside competition is so keen that Lynn is losing much of its former shoe trade and that the Lynn manufacturers can make little profit, the statement continues:

"It is hardly to be expected that Lynn shoe manufacturers will stay in Lynn and invest their money in shoe manufacturing when they cannot see anything but failure before them."

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Kate Ellis Wise yesterday at Newport News filed her bill of complaint in the suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Capt. Ivan H. Wise. She alleges infidelity and names Miss Elizabeth O'Neil, of Baltimore, as corespondent. Miss O'Neil came to O'D Point Comfort from Baltimore about a year ago and Capt. Wise is supposed to have met her there. Several months ago she moved to Richmond and has since lived in that city.

Judge Barham, in the corporation court, has allowed Mrs. Wise $50 a month from Capt. Wise's salary, pending the trial of the suit.

Mrs. Wise is the widow of the late Mr. E. H. U. S. navy. She met Capt. Wise in the Philippines, where her husband died, and married him in New York, in 1904. She is prominent in Newport News church circles.

Women's "Tub" Dresses.

We are showing a very broad assortment of Women's Wash Dresses—called by many "Tub" Dresses, because they are of suitable wash materials and may be put in the tub with the family laundry without fear of injury. Made of plain and checked ginghams, plain linens, and figured and bordered lawns.

Just the thing for outings and picnics, as well as for afternoon wear at home or at the seashore or mountains. This stock is fresh, crisp, and new, and includes the latest ideas in the plain one-piece effects and those that are as elaborate as fashion demands.

The ginghams are made princess style, with belt, and have wash lace yoke; some fasten in front and are finished with bands in blending colors.

$2.95 to $8.75 each.

The lawns are made in one-piece style and piped in various colors; also in the popular jumper style.

$3.95 to $5.75 each.
